Drawing: Light and Shadow

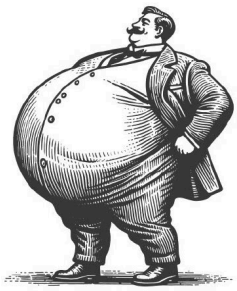

PROJECT 1 - MASTER DRAWING REMIX

When creating the thumbnails for the illustration, the idea of a sick and poor dog stood out to me the most. I decided to exaggerate this idea by adding a fat man, using him as a figure that appears to mock the dog. This contrast helped emphasize the imbalance between the two subjects and added a layer of dark humor to the composition. I used a wash of coffee combined with gouache to introduce color and texture to the surface, then used a brush pen to define the forms of the dog and the fat man.

PROJECT 3 DRAMATIC MOOD NARRATIVE

REFLECTION / SELF EVALUATION

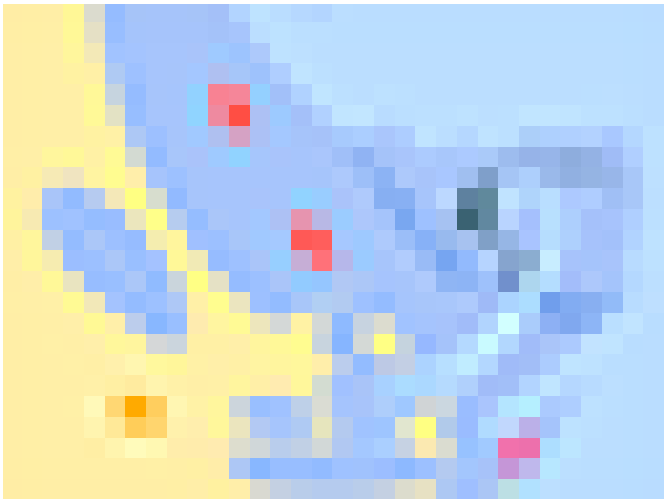

In this piece, I created a tense alleyway scene using warm oranges and dark browns to build a moody atmosphere. The warning sign and the word “ALERT” suggest danger, while the angled perspective leads the viewer deeper into the space. I used rough lines and shading to give the buildings a worn, gritty texture. Overall, the project helped me practice lighting, contrast, and creating mood in an environment.
